Call to Confession

The psalmist counsels that when we keep our sins to ourselves and "hidden" from God, we waste away and our strength dries up! But when we acknowledge our sin to God and don't hide our shortcomings and mistakes, God forgives us the guilt of our sin.
Let us pray, first responsively and then in silence.

A Litany of Confession

It is not a perfect life we live, O God; we are people of ambivalent goodness, and too fragile desires for justice and righteousness;

We need your grace and forgiveness, and your strength to bring grace into the world.

It's not a perfect world we live in, O God; there is greed and want, exploitation and marginalization, and too many people excluded for indefensible reasons;

We need your grace and forgiveness, and your strength to bring grace into the world.

Remind us, O God, that it is not perfection you seek, but humility, brokenness and repentance;

Lead us into a love for you that is reckless and selfless; that, because we have been forgiven much, will risk everything for you,

Washing your feet, and those of the poor and suffering,

Weeping with you, and those who grieve,

Standing with the rejected and mocked, even as we share their lot.

We need your grace and forgiveness, and your strength to bring grace into the world.

(time of silent prayer)

Assurance of Pardon

“Happy are those whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.”

Thanks be to God: In Jesus Christ, we are forgiven.
